DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Miyashita et al. (hereinafter Miyashita – US Pat. No. 5,959,747).

Claims 1-13 are rejected for the same reasons as discussed in the prior Office Action, mailed on 1/9/2007 (see Response to Arguments below).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miyashita et al. (hereinafter Miyashita – US Pat. No. 5,959,747).

Regarding claim 14, Miyashita discloses all of the limitations of claim 1 as discussed in the claim 1 rejection above. Miyashita does not directly disclose that the apparatus that records the new data is different from the apparatus that recorded the old data.

Examiner hereby takes Official Notice that it is well known in the art of dynamic optical recording to manufacture an optical disc as disclosed by Miyashita in such a way that would allow the same optical disc to be written and rewritten to by multiple recording and re-recording apparatuses. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the optical disc recording method as disclosed by Miyashita, the motivation being to allow multiple users with multiple recording and re-recording apparatuses to record and use the same rewritable optical disc.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 4/2/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues, on pages 7-8 of the Remarks filed on 4/2/2007, that the disclosure by Miyashita only covers test data and does not cover "real data." Examiner respectfully disagrees. Examiner failed to find any limitation in the current claims that specifies that the data that was previously recorded or the data that is being record over the old data is user data as opposed to test data. Examiner asserts that the claims are limited to only "new" and "old" data wherein the new data is written atop the old data and therefore Miyashita does satisfy the currently claimed limitations for the reasons discussed in the previous Office Action.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
